Annual May Festival To Be Held This Sun.

Public Is Invited To Fete Featuring More Than 450 Local Participants

By DAN SIENES
Supervisor - Recreation

Spring is here! that is, it will be here officially at 1:30 p.m. this Sunday, May 18. On Sunday Maypoles, blossoms, and pretty young ladies will hold the spotlight at the Jefferson high school field. Arrangements are being rushed to complete the many preparations necessary for the gigantic show.

With close to 450 participants nestled on the huge football field, the Star Spangled Banner, executed by the Daly City band under the direction of George Brenner will start the huge festival in motion. The football field, beautifully decorated by blossoms and dancing with flags of many colors, will be a fitting homage to the gaily costumed paraders as they pass in review. Spectators will be dazzled by the array and variety of the painstakingly made attire of the young ladies.

After passing in review the procession will array itself on the field as the coronation ceremony is being held on the floral stage. Queen Judith Logan will be crowned by Mayor Paul Green.

Judith's attendents are representatives of the schools in this area. They are: Gail Smith, Carolyn Smyser, Sandra Calavano, Alexis Malone, Sandra Picardo, and Lucille Whitney.

Their beautiful costumes are being fashioned by the Queen's Committee under the direction of Mrs. Clydean Carruthers. Elaborate stage decorations are being p'anned by the Daly City Garden Club.

A huge Maypole dance will follow with six Maypoles being wound simultaneously. Over 300 stuningly dressed young ladies from the following dance studios will perform this precise and exacting dance: Bunnie Carrol's, Loise Andre's Studio Dance, Leota's Dance Studio, and Carol Roe Studio Dance.

The field program will reach its climax with a variety of colorful and massive dance productions. The square dance, the wild west daze, the Blue Tango, and folk dancing are only a sampling of the program to be presented.

Music will be supplied by the Daly City band and the Jefferson high band. Singing will be presented by the Jefferson high chorus group, the Spanish Club of Jefferson high and a group from the Jefferson e'ementary schools.

Because of the necessity of eliminating the parade this year a varied field program will be in effect. The City's PTA under Mrs. Eason and Mrs. Prisco will offer entertainment and refreshments from their rainbow colored booths.

Spectators are promised a wonderful show and a spectacle they will never forget.

The festivities will start promptly at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, May 18.

Admission is free.

POSTMENS' 2nd WALK FOR PALSY VICTIMS SET

Postmen of Daly City and Colma will conduct their "Postmens' 2nd Walk" for the United Cerebral Palsy Association on Thursday night, May 22, it was announced at headquarters today.

In making the announcement, Frank J. McCarthy, President of Golden Gate Branch, No. 214, National Association of Letter Carrier, said the postal clerks had agreed to help the carriers this year, thus swelling the number of men working in the residential districts.

The campaign will continue throughout May.

McKay Chosen B'moor. President

Lady On Board For First Time In Years

James McKay is the new president of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association.

He, with other officers, was elected at a special meeting of that organization Friday evening. Outside of the election the only discussion centered around the pros and cons of the Friday school tax election.

There was no discussion of the annexation to Daly City question. One group, as reported in THE RECORD, was prepared to bring up the topic, but decided against it when it was learned such discussion was out of order at a nomination meeting.

(In the "Back Fence," an official publication of the Broadmoor Property Owners Association, it was noted this week:

"Proponents of annexation have up to now been unfortunate in their timing as every time they start, Daly City starts jumping with issues of costly city improvements for fire houses, sewage, etc. Opponents have explored the posiblities of separate incorporation as a city. Most people seem to like our current status . . . just living in the country. There is and always will be pressure from the county for our incorporation alone or with an established incorporated area.")

Officers

The new group of officers, includes another noticeable change. For the first time in two years a lady, Mrs. Ann Read, has been elected to serve. In fact, Mrs. Read received the greatest vote of the evening, 63. She was later named as treasurer.

Other officers include: Grant Holman, vice-president; Joseph Belli, Jr., treasurer; George Alexander, William O'Neil, Lawrence Baker, Vincent Cauchi and Lawrence Ward, board members.

The new officers are slated to meet this evening, May 15, to discuss plans for the coming year. It is also expected they will abolish the $100 a month fee paid a member of the board for necessary administrative work.

City-County Flood Board Suggested

Immediate formation of a joint city-county board to study methods of checking costly floods in Daly City and Broadmoor and throughout San Mateo county was suggested today by Thomas Callan, candidate for the board of supervisors.

Callan's proposal was made in the form of a letter to the board of supervisors that urged they call a meeting of city and county officials to discuss setting up an anti-erosion and flood control study board to look into ways and means of controlling flood water damage.

"If I am elected to the board of supervisors on June 3, I will exert every effort to see that some practical solution is found to protect the home owners and property owners of San Mateo county from re-occuring floods every winter," Callan said.

Failure to apply proper drainage and erosion precautions has already cost county residents well over a million dollars, Callan

Council Requested To Grant Old Folks Home Permit Here

Bids Opened On W'lake Water Reduction Valve

Application for a permit to open a home for the aged at 92 Hillcrest drive was made to the city council at their regular meeting Monday night.

The permit was requested by Mrs. Matilda Stanford, 92 Hillcrest drive. She has asked to house seven aged persons in the aforesaid building.

The council delayed any action on the matter pending a public hearing to hear pros and cons. The hearing is slated for Monday, May 26, in the council chambers, city hall, at 8 p.m.

Reports from the building inspector, fire department and health department were also requested. These will be presented at the hearing.

No Protests

City Administrator Dan Andersen said notification of the application had been posted in the neighborhood Wednesday, May 14. To date he said he has received no written or oral protests.

Bids were opened on the underground water reduction valve for Westlake. The valve is necessary in order to cut down the excess pressure of local water. An earlier bid by the E. T. Haas company of $3,880 was rejected when the council decided the valve would be best underground. Specifications met by Haas were for a valve housed above the ground.

Low Bid

Lowest bid Monday ngiht was by the Associated Engineers. They are asking $1,290 for the valve housing, $2,650 for the valve and

As a first step in setting up his campaign organization, Verducci has selected Fred N. Kruse, 78 Lake Forest drive, an engineering executive, to serve as vice chairman in charge of large gifts; Pede Worth, 843 South Mayfair, KCBS radio producer to serve as vice chairman in charge of arrangements; and Ted Hopman, 34 Garden lane, prominent Daly City merchant, to serve as vice chairman in charge of general gifts.

Third Chamber of Commerce Meeting Slated To Elect Temporary Officers

Election of temporary officers for the new Daly City Chamber of Commerce will be held tonight, May 15, at City hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

This, the third organizational meeting, promises to be important, as the by-laws are to be read and approved.

At a meeting last Thursday in the Club Casino, the by-laws were read to a group of 15 interested businessmen. However, as not enough were present, it was decided to put it over until tonight's meeting, Mrs. Alice Van Over, temporary chairman, reported today.

As read last Thursday the by-laws call for:

1. A permanent Chamber office to be staffed by a part time business manager. The manager has still to be appointed, as does his rate of salary.

2. Tentative fees for membership are $25 a year.

3. A board of directors, consisting of 11 or 15 businessmen, is to be elected. Temporary officers are to be selected this evening.

4. Purpose of the Chamber will be to encourage community interest which in turn will promote the welfare of the city.

Firemen To Feature TV Stars

A change in place for the 19th Annual Ball sponsored by the Widows and Orphans association of the Daly City Fire department was announced yesterday by Al Sundstrom, president of the association.

Originally scheduled to be held in the new Community Center building, the site of the ball has been moved to the Jefferson high school auditorium. The move was necessitated by the Bay Area carpenters' strike, said Sundstrom, which prevented completion of the center's dance floor.

No other change in program was made and the annual affair will be held at 8 p.m., Sat., May 24, as previously scheduled.

Dancing will continue until 1 a.m., following a presentation of six variety acts. Sundstrom, however, urged non-dancers also to attend. "The entertainment alone is worth the price," he said.

Supplying the music will be Fredric Howard and his "Band of Gold," which recently completed an 18 week tour which included the Palace and St. Francis hotels, the Redwood Bowl and the Marin Town and Country Club.

Also among the nationally recognized artists who have been engaged for the stage show to be given between dance numbers are Charlie Raino, who appears on Mitlon Berle's TV offering from time to time; Pogie Pogie, New York comedian; Terri Andre, billed as "sophisticated, sultry songstress...the darling of the night spots;" and Medley and Dupree, who have appeared on the Sid Caesar-Imogene Coca "Show of Shows."

Russ Byrd, who just concluded an engagement at the Flamingo Club in Las Vegas, will be master of ceremonies.

Sundstrom reports all profit derived from the affair will be given to youth organizations for welfare work.

Garden Villagers Blast Health Director

Residents Accuse Dr. Chope Of Failing To Protect Children From Vicious Dogs

Irate Garden Village residents this week accused Dr. Harold D. Chope, county public health director, of failing to protect their children from attacks by vicious dogs.

"We are very dissatisfied with the service that Dr. Chope gives this part of the county," they said in a statement to THE RECORD.

Dr. Chope replied this morning that his office has "only had charge of the county animal shelter since January. We've hired three more men, bought two new trucks and more than doubled the pound's capacity. I don't think you can move any faster than that."

The accusation came after a Tuesday meeting at Garden Village called by Dr. Chope to discuss the case of dogs owned by Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Terrill, 33 Village lane, which allegedly attacked and bit two small children April 22.

Mrs. Leonard Stiller, mother of one of the children, held up her daughter's torn and bloody coat and demanded that Dr. Chope prevent the animals from returning to their owners.

Dr. Chope replied that the dogs were still at the county animal shelter in Redwood City, where they have been tested for viciousness. "They have shown no signs of being sufficiently vicious to warrant destruction," said Dr. Chope.

Both dogs were previously found to be free of rabies.

Chope said this morning that he had talked to Mrs. Terrill, owner of the dogs, and that he would allow the dogs to return only if adequate safeguards were taken to insure that the animals could not escape from their own yard.

He said that a proviso to their release would be that they must be on a leash when away from the Terrill property.

"We don't want all dogs destroyed," said Mrs. Reginald Bell, 23 Garden Lane, who was present at the meeting. "We just want the ones that bite to be confined."

Broadmoor Police Chief Paul Schmidt, whose department serves the Garden Village area, said that his department has received a number of com-

Carpenters' Strike Threatens More Double Sessions

Elementary School Construction Delayed

Additional double sessions for elementary students loomed today as the carpenters' strike, now in its sixth week, held up construction on urgently needed new public schools.

H. Z. Weibel, superintendent of schools, reports construction on the $223,888 addition to the Garden Village school is at a standstill. The contract for seven new classrooms was to have been completed in September. The new rooms would have greatly relieved the double session problem here, Weibel said.

"It appears now that the job won't be completed until after September," Weibel declared. "This means more students will probably have to go on double sessions."

Only other job held up in the elementary district is the grading and development of the new Westlake site. Work on this $33,000 contract was just started when the strike was called.

Construction of additional facilities at Jefferson high school have not been affected, as the architect is still working on the plans for this job, Stanford Hannah, superintendent, said.

Meanwhile, almost all other construction in the Daly City area has come to a halt. Hardest hit is Westlake, where multi-million dollar plans for additions to a shopping center and new homes have been held up.

Some local builders, who have settled independently with the carpenters, are still working. However, this is a limited number who are not affiliated with the Peninsula General Contractors Association. The association, whose members compose 75 per cent of building in the county, has ordered a complete shutdown of construction involving carpenters.

Harry E. Smith, executive vice-president of the association announced his group is approaching these independent contractors in an effort to get them to call off contracts.

The county's 4,000 carpenters are demanding a 15 cent hourly wage increase and 7½ cent welfare plan. The contractors have previously agreed to the raise, but shun the amount involved in the welfare plan.

The effect of the strike is being felt strongly in local business. As a good many residents here are dependent upon the building trades their purchasing power has noticeably dwindled. Many local merchants report business is off 20 to 25 per cent over a year ago at the same time.

However Earl Honerlah, business agent for the Carpenters' Union, San Mateo Local 162, reported today carpenters are suffering virtually no economic distress.

Honerlah said 60 per cent of the carpenters in his union are working full time for contractors who have signed separate contracts. The other 40 per cent are rotated by the union among remaining available jobs.

Clean Up Days Begin Monday

City Offers Helping Hand To Residents

Here's an opportunity to clean up the basement or attic.

Again this year Daly City will hold an annual Spring Clean-up. With cooperation of the Daly City Scavenger company, the city has arranged to pickup waste material from all homes.

Residents are asked only to have everything boxed or tied. Garden trimmings will be accepted, but only if boxed.

Pickups will be as follows: Monday, May 19—all homes north of Wellington and Hillcrest; Monday, May 26—all homes south of Wellington and Hillcrest; May 29—all of Westlake.

Civil Defense

The greatest contribution each householder can make to the community's civil defense is to institute a thorough home spring clean-up, the Daly City council announced.

"A spring clean-up may sound like the last weapon in the world against an atom bomb," the council said, "but it's very sound home defense. An atom bomb or any bombing means fire, hundreds of fires that will spring up within a radius of several miles from the actual hit."

We in our homes can do nothing about the bomb. The householder's immediate problem in the case of any such emergency will be fire fighting."

The best defense of the homemakers is to make his house as

Bookmaking Trial Date Set for May 27

Stephen Schiattacasse, 45, operator of a gas station at 7400 Mission street in Daly City, will receive a preliminary hearing Tuesday, May 27, in police court here to answer to a charge of bookmaking.

Schiattacasse appeared Wednesday for his arraignment, accompanied by his attorney, Robert J. Dell 'Ergo of Redwood City. He is free on $1,000 bail.

The service station operator was picked up by local police last week after two policemen laid a trap by placing a bet, which Schiattacasse allegedly accepted.

According to police after the arrest, Schiattacasse, a resident of San Mateo, freely admitted his bookmaking operations and said he had been taking bets since January.

It was a small, one-man operation, according to police, who said the man took in about $25 to $30 a day. His net take allegedly was ten per cent.

Although city manager Dan Andersen admitted he had been aprpoached recently by a member of a ring wanting to get another "foothold" in Daly City, police could find no connection between Schiattacasse and any large operations in this area.

Minkin To Head Optimist Club

"Junipero Serra Optimist Club" was the name formally adopted by the new Daly City Optimists Monday noon, at the Club Casino, 6192 Mission street.

Election of officers followed the selection of the name, which was taken from the title of the traffic artery that connects all the areas represented in the club.

The new officers are: Louis H. Minkin, optometrist, for president; Byron Lewis, American Trust Co., George Bignotti, Tanforan Florist Shop, and Leonard Wester, Memorial Park, as vice presidents.

Elected to the board of directors for a two-year term were: U. R. Kendree, Henry Doelger, Inc.; C. Dan Lan, attorney; and Frank Lombardi, auto service.

Lombardi, due to his actvie support of youth work, was appointed to head the boy's work committee.

Those who will serve a one-year term are: Donald L. Miller, variety store; Guy Sessions, accounting stationery; and Carl Haas, Dodge and Plymouth dealer.

Charles Ethel, accountant, was appointed secretary-treasurer by President Minkin.

The Junipero Serra Optimist Club will meet every Thursday noon at the Club Casino.

stated. Last winter families and business establishments in San Carlos, San Mateo, South San Francisco, the Coastside, Broadmoor and numerous other areas suffered considerable damage by uncontrolled floods and high water.

"It is unnecessary that residents, many of whom are veterans, should be victims of conditions which can and must be remedied," Callan declared.

Independent citizen's groups have estimated most of the difficulty could be overcome with simple engineering methods. Callan believes, compared with what floods have cost taxpayers, corrective measures would cost little.

A study of the problem is needed by city, county, state and federal officials, in cooperation with experts and interested citizens, Callan asserted. Federal agencies might not only offer constructive suggestions, but also funds for corrective work.

"The important thing is to get this study under way as soon as possible so that the people who suffered under last winter's conditions will not have to endure the inconvenience and damage again this winter," Callan said. "Any delay and we face the same trouble we have had for the past two years. Now is the time to make plans and take corrective precautions, not this winter when the rains start," Callan declared.

plaints in recent months of dogs attacking children.

At a meeting last night of the Broadmoor police commissioners, local residents attending announced their intentions to petition for more strict ordinances, which would allow police to pick up stray animals and impound them.

Informed of this, Dr. Chope said that the Humane Society will begin such operations in the north county area by fall, and that restrictive ordinances are not needed.

"With the changes that are on the fire now, they'll be getting their improved service without any new ordinances," he said.

At the present time, Broadmoor police are not empowered to pick up vicious dogs. Only the county pound in Redwood City can perform such work.

safe from fire as possible, the council advised.

Check Points

The council suggested each house owner check off the points outlined by the National Board of fire underwriters in this program for home fire safety.

1. Clean out combustible rubrish from closets, the attic, the cellar, the basement, the garage, and any other family niches where it's likely to collect.

2. Dispose of gasoline, benzene or other explosive liquids. Don't keep any of these fluids around the house.

3. Put oily rags, paint cloths in a covered metal container.

The city council has made arrangements with the Daly City Scavenger Company to pick up the rubbish in Daly City. The rubbish will be collected free on the days and places given on this schedule.

$650 for labor. Total bid was $4,590. Of the three other contractors, only one bid on the whole job. The others declined to bid on either the housing, valve or the labor. Next lowest bidder on the whole job was Callahan Construction with $4,819.

The council delayed action, until they receive a report from the city engineer.

Dennis Resigns

A letter was read from Councilman Edward Dennis in which he resigned from the Recreation Commission, a post he has held for the past year. As he is a newly elected councilman, Dennis is no longer able to serve on the board.

The council ordered a resolution drawn up commending Dennis for his fine work on the commission.

Dennis' successor is expected to be named at the next regular council meeting.

Other business Monday night included:

1. A claim was filed against the city for $25,000 by L. M. Allen, 206 School street. His is one of numerous such claims filed after a bus collided with a city fire engine at Mission and Vista Grande, February 5, 1952. Allen claims he suffered injury in the accident, as he was riding on the bus at the time. The claim was denied and turned over to City Attorney Frank Blum.

Raise Asked

2. City Administrator Andersen requested the city to raise the filing fees for rezoning from $25 to $50; for a variance permit from $10 to $25 and a use permit from $5 to $10. He said increased expenses necessitate the boost. The matter was turned over to Councilman Dennis, chairman of the administrative committee, for further study.

3. Payments to Ralph Larson & Son for electrical work on the Community Center building were approved. The progress payment was $5,459 from the general fund. Councilman Dennis asked Mayor Paul Green if this job would finish the electric work on the building. Mayor Green replied it was only for the south end, although this included a major part of the electrical work for the whole building.

"I do not believe any other candidate knows as much about the many problems of our district as Mr. Gilmore.

"We have no paid workers or elaborate campaign headquarters. All the men and women actively engaged in the Gilmore campaign are volunteer workers interested in good government.

Joe Gilmore knows the problems of the 25th Assembly District and is the only candidate with Legislative experience and it is my opinion that the people of the 25th District are entitled to an experienced legislator."

Buddy Poppy Sale To Begin May 23

By HILDA STETTLER

What are buddy poppies? What is the purpose of buddy poppy day? Who benefits from the donations made for buddy poppies?

These and countless other questions are asked by thousands of people who are approached by VFW members and other organizations who sell buddy poppies annually on street corners, in stores, from door to door, or wherever they might happen to be.

I would like to answer these questions for you, so that when you are ready to give your donation, you will realize the purpose of the drive.

First of all, buddy poppies are a symbol of those who gave their lives fighting for our country, and to those who remained and remembered the perils of war.

Second, the purpose of buddy poppy day is to remind people that these disabled and needy veterans and their families should not be forgotten. They certainly didn't forget you when they were on the battlefield.

Third, your buddy poppy donations go toward rehabilitating veterans, and their widows and orphans or dependent parents.

These buddy poppies are made by veterans themselves, who are in veteran and service hospitals all over the country.

The buddy poppy sale begins May 23 and ends May 30. Remember the slogan. "Honor the Dead by Remembering the Living."

Captain Andrew G. Dokos, 12 Wilshire Court, has been awarded the crested star insignia of General Staff officer following his appointment as Post Comptroller at The Armored Combat Training Center, Camp Irwin, California.

Capt. Dokos entered the Army originally in 1941, and in July, 1943, he received his commission as second lieutenant. After serving in the European theatre of operations during the latter stages of World War II, he was separated from active duty with the Army in March, 1946.

In May of last year he was recalled to active service, helping to fill the urgent need for experienced military personnel at the time. Capt. Dokos arrived at this Mojave Desert installation the first of this month.

Among his awards and decorations, Capt. Dokos wears the American Defense Medal, World War II Victory Medal and the ETO Ribbon.

In 1946, following his separation from the service, Capt. Dokos enrolled at the University of San Francisco, receiving his degree in Accounting in 1950.

The Armored Combat Training Center, where Capt. Dokos is now stationed, is the nation's largest military reservation, offering 673,000 acres of rugged desert terrain for the armored might of the Army to practice "fire and maneuver" problems.

This Cat Had Only One Life To Live

Once upon a time there was a cat who had not nine, but only one life. Her name was Fluffy and she was dearly loved by all the neighbors and the Del Wilson family, 257 Hillside boulevard.

For lack of another life, Fluffy departed this world at 8 o'clock Monday evening. She was the victim of an automobile.

And because the Wilsons and the neighbors love cats, and because local policemen are nice guys, there is a new cat in the neighborhood today. Her name is Twinkle, and she's trying hard to replace Fluffy.

The cat was secured by Officer James Baird with the aid of the local pound.

As far as anyone knows, Twinkie, unlike Fluffy, may live happily ever after.

Residents Want Facts, Not Adjectives

The time has come when adjectives and superlatives will no longer serve to disguise the facts. Taxpayers want to know one thing now, and one thing alone, "how much is it going to cost me?"

Success or failure of the bond issues and improvement measures coming up in August will depend on how well this basic question is answered. Failure to come up with the right reply resulted in the flop of a second bond issue to complete the Community Center. The same thing may happen again.

THE RECORD will endeavor to present facts to the taxpayers: However, this will require the cooperation of the interested officials.

Last week, for example, we reported on a measure to improve the local water system. It was our understanding most of the $500,000 was to be spent in Westlake for a water tank and well. Now, we come to find this is not the case. As a matter of fact, close to half of this sum will be used to remodel and improve the existing system in older Daly City. This one fact alone will garner thousands of votes for the measure.

Much of the same difficulty surrounds the Community Center building. For example, up until two weeks ago it was the general understanding that $25,000 from the general fund had been alloted for ALL the electric work in the building. Now we come to find this sum is only for the south end. Another contract must be let for the north end.

The time has come to halt this game of generalities. Let's get down to the facts. Let's give the taxpayer the break he deserves, before he balks and completely rejects the important measures coming up in August.

How Long Does It Take To Spend $101,000?

How long does it take a city government to spend $101,000?

When it comes to parks, and that city is Daly City, the time limit seems infinite.

This week residents near Edgewood Park have again asked "Where is the playground equipment?" They have been asking this same question for two months.

Previously they were a little less demanding... a year ago all they wanted was compleion of the material section of the park.

It is difficult to say who is to blame for this motion in reverse. Perhaps it is no more than the red tape of government, or a trick of the fates. We have attempted to fathom the depths and can conclude nothing.

Tomorrow, and tomorrow and tomorrow seems to be a pat answer when it comes to the parks program.

The finger of blame can be pointed nowhere but in a confusing circle. Certainly the Recreation Commission has done its utmost to introduce speed. Dan Andersen, city administrator, has gone almost to the point of lighting a stick of dynamite under the reams of bookwork in an effort to find the satisfactory conclusion. The city council has time and time again expressed amazement (and we believe it to be honest) over the fact the program has not been completed.

In conclusion, then, we offer the readers the problem. Why, and when will the parks program be completed? We would like to hear your answer to that one.

We Take A Strong Editorial Stand

We had a talk with a city official the other day about this editorial page. He was one facial shade from being red hot. He didn't like what we had to say.

He observed we were too critical of city government, and the officials therein. He wanted to read something favorable.

These editorials, we explained, have but one purpose...to serve the people. It is our belief this service means pointing out the flaws in our city, whether it be a bad official, or a dog making mince meat out of the neighbor's cat.

Service to a community may be rendered by praising everything and everyone to the sky, but this lip service usually smacks of lack of intertinal fortitude.

We do not live in the best of all possible worlds, but there is no harm in trying to make it one. But we can never make this a paradise if we fail to recognize we are living in a community at least one notch below the ideal.

This paper does not feel it has the right to force a pair of rosy glasses in front of its readers. In the news we endeavor to print the facts; in the editorials we hope to point out what is wrong with the sum of those facts.

Unfortunately, all we can do is to point out the flaws in our system. We go no farther. The next move is up to the readers, the people. That is why we encourage attendance at city council meetings, why we plug for public interest in all civic affairs.

On this same page we have a "Letters to the Editor" column. Those who disagree with either our factual reporting, or editorials, are asked to express themselves in this column. We run it adjoining the editorials, for we feel the voice of the people deserves as prominent a place as possible.

We are far from being perfect. We are often wrong. And when we are wrong we ask you, the readers to correct us.

As for city officials who resent our editorials... politics are for those honestly trying to help the people, or to help themselves to public trust. A man dedicated to the right path should regard criticism as a guiding light. The man working in the shadows has a good reason to fear the spotlight of the truth.

Politicos Make Worthy Suggestions

Two suggestions of note were made this week by gentlemen seeking public office. We believe they merit the attention of our readers, regardless of how readers feel as to the individual qualifcations of the candidates.

Thomas Callan, who is seeking a seat on the board of supervisors, has called upon that same body to set up a joint city-county flood control board. This is bound to win support from a good many Broadmoor and Daly City residents who were flooded out of their homes during the past winter.

Callan wants officials from the county and various cities to sit down and work out means of checking future floods. He wants this done immediately, before another winter rolls around with possibly more and heavier rains.

Such a suggestion makes good sense. Much of the trouble in Broadmoor, for example, resulted from simple failure to install large enough drainage pipes in the right places. Had we an official flood control board, the lack of proper pipes might never have occurred.

Engineering difficulties in the Crocker hills resulted in several residents along Frankfort street losing their yards to water. Had we a flood board, prompt steps might have been taken to alleviate such difficulty.

We heartily concur with Callan's suggestion, and hope city and county officials will see their way clear to forming such a board.

Another worthy suggestion has been made by Thomas Jenkins, candidate for the state assembly from this district. Jenkins has called on the state to allocate more funds for a state wide anti-narcotics educational program.

Were we to compare the expense of curbing drug traffic after it has gained a foothold, with the relatively low cost of an educational program, Jenkins' proposal should be widely acclaimed. Success along this line has been seen in the county's independent program, and there is no reason to suspect it would not meet with greater success on a state level.

It is to be hoped neither of these suggestions go the way of so many worthy measures introduced by candidates during an election year. Were either or both of them to be acted upon, taxpayers would find themselves in much better shape.

Pioneer Celebration In Order

In an unsettled world, when everyone appears to be moving onward to nothingness and nowhere, it is comfortable to remember the few who have sunk their roots to build.

And while "pioneers" is a relatively loose term, it does denote a certain pride in pushing forward the horizons and building for the future which have now arrived.

Daly City has a good many of these pioneers, men and women who came out here after the San Francisco earthquake and fire to found a city on what theretofore was little but cow pasture. Indeed, anyone familiar with the history of this community can take pride in being a resident of Daly City. Where the past has not always been lilly pure or straight, it has been lusty and colorful. Daly City's history is the history of a rough and tumble town feeling its oats, and later maturing into one of the finest residential communities in the Bay Area.

Despite this proud past, too many are wont to forget the pioneers. We recommend, therefore, Daly City set aside a day each year to salute the pioneers and the history of the community. This should prove of interest to residents, and relatively lucrative to local business men. It might do much, too, to remove the unjustified blemish often attached to the name "Daly City."

Those interested in such a celebration (and this is addressed especially to the pioneers) are asked to contact THE RECORD, preferably by letter We will print these letters and do our best to introduce a really worthy holiday to Daly City.

Let's hear from all of you, especially the pioneers.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Record welcomes any letter on any event of public, or private interest. These letters are published at no expense to the writer. There are just two requirements: the letters must be signed, and must be within the laws of libel. We hope readers will show enough interest in their city to occasionally "sound off;" for the purpose of this col umn is to give you, the reader, a chance to express an opinion.

Resident Points Out Why He Will Vote For Callan For The Board Of Supervisors

May 13, 1952

Dear Sir:

It has been repeatedly stated that we here in Daly City are treated as orphans in that this section of the county has no representation on the Board of Supervisors nor in the Legislature at Sacramento. Some have raised the issue of "taxation without representation."

At the Primary Election, June 3, we will vote to fill the offices of Supervisor of the First District and State Assemblyman. Here is a golden opportunity to secure the services of two outstanding, capable and experienced men who have lived here all their lives and who have our interest and welfare at heart.

The voters of Daly City, Colma and Broadmoor will be insuring themselves of a real voice in our local and state government by rallying unanimously behind Thomas J. Callan for Supervisor and Peter J. Markovich for Assemblyman.

Much has been written concerning sufficient funds for the operation of our schools. The basic laws governing school needs are enacted by the State Legislature.

This is another very important reason why Peter J. Markovich should represent us in the Assembly. He has served as Chairman of the Jefferson Union High School Board of Trustees for six years. This fact assures us of a representative who will not only be sympathetic towards problems affecting needs of our school children, parents and teachers, but who will have the knowledge gained through experience to successfully handle them.

Yours very truly,
John E. Colthurst

Callan Urges Supervisors To Form Joint City-County Flood Control Board

Colma, Calif.
Monday, May 12, 1952

Mr. Alvin S. Hatch, Chairman
San Mateo County Board of Supervisors.

Dear Mr. Hatch and members of the Board of Supervisors:

As a San Mateo county citizen interested in the welfare of our entire county, I would like to offer a suggestion for your board to consider at its next meeting.

I feel that it is a very important matter and it may be that you may have thought about and considered just such a proposal as I am going to suggest in this letter.

We are all well aware of the considerable damage brought about last winter by the rains which caused much flood and high water damage throughout the county and especially in the newer sections of our San Mateo county, cities and subdivisions.

I realize that most of the damage caused was within the city limits of these cities, but much of the drain-off came from hills that are in the unincorporated areas of the county. I feel that it is both a county and city problem if not partly a federal problem also.

I do feel though, that it would not be out of line, if the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors took the initiative to set up a joint city-county flood control study board comprised of representatives from the cities most vitally interested. The mayors of the cities, I am sure, would be happy to cooperate. The board could consist of qualified engineers and authorities on drainage and soil erosion, interested citizens and possibly representatives from the federal agencies familiar with this problem.

I know that the many families that suffered the inconvenience and damages caused by flood waters these past two years would appreciate any action and efforts the Board of Supervisors would take to help alleviate this situation for this winter and for future winters.

I hope that you will give this matter the consideration that it deserves and that you will deem it proper to set up such a board as I have suggested or to take some action that will accomplish this end just as soon as possible.

Thank you very much for your consideration.

Cordially yours,
Thomas J. Callan, Sr.

Bill Katz . . . FROM A CORNER

Let us grapple with the average man. Some prefer the average woman, but being average she takes a dim view of grappling . . . so she's out.

The average man has been around a long time trying to live up to the statisticians. You find him in every report involving opinion. He is rarely right.

There are so many average men, you would think he'd be easy to find. This is not the case. An average man is impossible to locate.

In a country where everything is treated with superlatives, the word "average" has an odious connotation. No one, not even the average man, wants to be treated as average.

What Is Average?

As a matter of fact is there such a thing as average, even in reports? For example, the guy next door is supposed to have some $1,115.60 in the bank. This is the average savings of an average family, at least according to statistics. But don't try to collect that fin you lent him last month. He's flat broke.

Take another case. According to reports the average American family is composed of man, wife and one and one-half children. The half child has presented some difficulty, especially when it comes to filling out income tax deductions. Otherwise, of course, the half child is turning out pretty well. He has no alternative—he's average.

Dish Problem

Then there's the one about average men helping their wives with the dishes. They are supposed to be doing this every night. Which just goes to prove none of our friends are average. Men we know haven't seen the inside of a dishpan since they graduated from baby baths.

The average man lives in a neighborhood made up of homes . . . although in darkest Africa some prefer to live in trees.

Depending on what set of statistics you examine our average man in his backyard sports a swimming pool or three square feet of cement. Some average home owners clutter up their backyards with whiskey stills, but the government takes the average view of such procedure.

Jail Bound

This leads us to the average man in jail. Experience being limited, we can not comment on this type.

Average men smoke, except for those who would rather eat their opium. Most of these smokers inhale one brand of cigarettes. That brand isn't average, it's outstanding. It is peculiar, but in the advertising world, average men prefer everything but the average product.

All of this leads to one conclusion—if you have read this far you're far from average. The average man would have given up long, long ago.

Ridgely Cummings . . . HOLLYWOOD

This is what is known in the writing trade as a rough draft. It consists of a few notes jotted down quickly soon after the event to keep them from being lost out of my sieve-like memory. It is mostly about a cinema hero named Errol Flynn.

The main reason it is a rough draft is that I expect to re-write it as soon as I can get around to seeing a film called "Maru Maru," starring Mr. Flynn. The picture is currently showing on Hollywood Boulevard and, judging from the reviews, I confidently expect it to be a stinker. Nevertheless I feel I owe that much research to my readers.

The reason behind this strange interest in Errol Flynn is that I talked with him the other day.

It was a Saturday afternoon. The sun was shining and Vine Street was a brightly colored kaleidoscope of bouncing girls in summer costumes. There were other people out too but I saw only the girls. Summer weather in the city is a fine thing, very character-revealing.

So I was strolling along enjoying the beauty of the time and place when suddenly I was hailed by a familiar voice. There on the sidewalk, teetering on the curb against a parked convertible, were two acquaintances.

One was a vaudeville performer named Johnny Black, a little, short, thinning-haired guy with a fast sense of humor, good on the quips, though I realize I shouldn't say that about him here because it makes it tough on me to write his dialogue.

The other curbstone philosopher was known to me only as Stan, or more formally, Stanley. I am moderately sure Stan is a crook of some kind but have refrained from learning the details. He too is a little guy, though bigger than Johnny, his companion. He dresses in razor-creased gabardine suits, turns his back when a radio squad car cruises past, looks at the world through dark, heavy-lidded and rather menacing eyes and, though without any visible means of support or apparent occupation, always has plenty of money, much more than the song-writers, actors, agents and other denizens of Vine Street.

It was Johnny who called to me. I joined him and Stan on the curb.

"There's a story for you in the "Spotlight," Johnny said.

"I've done my stint for today," I replied. "Thanks anyway."

"But it's Errol Flynn. Not many people get to interview him."

"What's he doing here on Vine Street?"

"He had a script with him. I think he's killing time before a radio show. Go on and talk to him. He's an easy guy to talk to."

"How do you know?"

"I was shaving in the Plaza washroom the other day and had a long conversation with him," said Johnny.

I should explain that the Plaza Hotel is one of the larger edifices along Vine and that it is not at all unusual for Johnny to use public facilities for his toilet. He lives simply and catch-as-catch-can between engagements.

"I'm shaving when he comes up and starts using the next washbowl," Johnny continued. "I saw him in the mirror and he begins talking. He's very friendly, a regular guy. He's interested in the fact that I'm shaving with the liquid soap and asks me all kinds of questions. After awhile he asks, 'But what do you do for the pimples?' "

Here Johnny laughed heartily.

"What's so funny?" Stan inquired in his habitually sour tone.

"He asks what do I do for the pimples and I answer, 'Nothing, what did they ever do for me?' Go on in and talk to him."

I entered the bar. Flynn was sitting in a booth in back, sprawled out at ease. A mimeographed radio script, a drink and a pile of dollar bills and change were on the table in front of him. A younger man of the advertising agency type was sitting with him.

Introducing myself as a writer, I asked if I might hold him up for a quick, off-the-cuff interview.

"Certainly, for a few minutes," Flynn replied in a negligent voice with an English accent. "I'm supposed to learn this blasted script in the next half hour. What magazine do you write for?"

No magazine but some newspapers, I told him. He seemed to loose what little interest he had in the project. But I sat down anyway. The movie star looked tired and aging. There was a reddish crop of beard on his face and heavy lines in his forehead and around his eyes.

To open, I mentioned having read a book called "Beam Ends," written by Flynn, dealing with a pearling venture in New Guinea. We exchanged a few remarks about Port Moresby and Thursday Island, which he knew well and which I had visited during the war.

Then I brought up a second book which came out over his by-line, a love and adventure tale laid in the same part of the world. I complimented him on the plot and the local color but admitted I couldn't remember the title.

Neither could Flynn. He turned to the advertising agency man but that gentleman didn't know the title either. I began to have doubts that Flynn actually wrote the book.

"I've heard the call," said Flynn.

"What do you mean?"

"The call."

"I don't get it."

"The call never to write another book."

"Oh," I said.

Flynn had just flown in from Bermuda for the radio show. He seemed weary and bored, restricting his replies to monosyllables.

A husky customer wearing a badge identifying him as a Lockheed Aircraft employee left his stool at the bar and came to the booth for an autograph. Flynn signed the scrap of paper without looking up at his fan. Then he ruffled the pages of his script. I took the hint. Rising, I thanked him for his time. He surprised me by extending his hand and shaking mine vigorously.

As I was walking out I was hailed by a musician named Dave Daggett, who plays the organ in the bar. Dave wanted to give me a news item about himself which he thought might be good for the "Spotlight's" business. While we were talking I faced back in Flynn's direction and saw that the actor was still slumped over the table. He wasn't studying his radio script. He was looking at me with what seemed to be a skeptical expression.

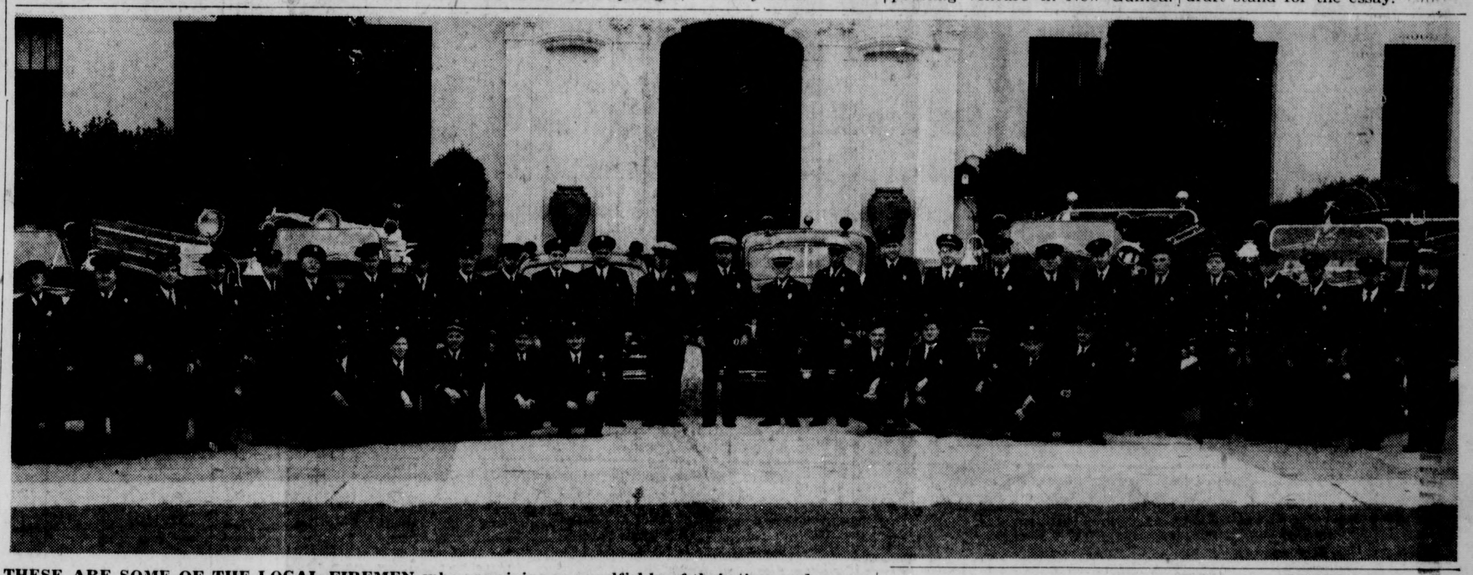
Outside Johnny and Stan wanted a full report.

"Was he sober?" Stan asked.

"Did you get a good story?" Johnny inquired.

"No, no story at all. I just picked up a little background information. I'll catch one of his movies and then work it in."

Which is what I intended to do, but if I saw the movie I wouldn't have any space left to write about it anyway. So I'll let the rough draft stand for the essay.



THESE ARE SOME OF THE LOCAL FIREMEN who are giving so unselfishly of their time and energy to put over the annual Firemen's Ball this year. Money from the event is used to benefit youth activities in the community. Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy urges residents to support the event, as it is the major fund raising affair for youth given here. The ball is to be given Saturday evening, May 24. Tickets may be purchased from any local fireman and at handy places throughout the city.

Visiting Nurses Plan Committee

Plans to reactivate a liaison committee between three agencies were made at a recent meeting of the board of trustees of the Visiting Nursing Association of San Mateo county, Inc., held at the auditorium of Mills Hospital in San Mateo.

Dr. Logan Gray, president of the organization, will be on the committee together with Mrs. George V. Kulchar and Mrs. J. H. P. Howard, Jr., representating the Visiting Nursing Association. Additional representatives to the committee will be appointed by the Community Chest of San Mateo county, of which the VNA is a red feather agency, and from the county of San Mateo, Dr. Gray reported.

Public health nurses in San Mateo County made 808 "get-well" visits under the visiting nursing service in April, according to Miss Martha Adams, executive director. Of these visits, she explained, 547 were made for the purpose of giving injections, under the orders of practicing physicians in the county.

Edgewood-Hillside Club To Meet Monday

Residents of the Edgewood-Hillside area are cordially invited to attend a meeting of the Edgewood-Hillside Improvement Club, Monday, May 19, at Jefferson high school.

Time of the meeting is 8 p.m. Officers for the coming year are to be elected. Nominations for the various posts will be accepted from the floor.

Shrine Circus Coming To S. F.

Many from this community are expected to join the festive crowds attending the twelfth annual Islam Shrine-Polack Bros. Circus at the San Francisco Civic Auditorium 12 days and nights, Wednesday, May 28, through Sunday, June 8.

Afternoon and night peformances will be given daily at 3:00 and 8:15 school days and at 2:15 and 8:15 Saturdays, Sundays, and Memorial Day.

Manifold aerial and acrobatic troupes, with a wide variety of animal features, give this year's circus a "better than ever" promise.

Exciting events aloft are intrepid high-wire pyramids by the Great Wallendas, unparalleled mid-air precision by the Nine Ward-Bell Flyers, barefoot aerial adagio adventures by Les Geraldos, breath-taking high-pole exploits by Miss Rietta, and graceful maneuvers in unison by the Aerialovelies.

Animal innovations range from the horseback riding pockey dogs of Karlis Petersons to Albert Spiller's oceanic combination of penquins and seals, and include Jack Joyce's performing camels, the fast-moving Packs elephants presented by the MacDonalds, Joe Lemke's comedy chimpanzees, and Alma Michaels with Harold Gautier's cute little poodles in a surprise novelty called "Excess Baggage."

Other headliners are the Theron Family in a lively revue of cycling versatility, the Four Whilwinds in a cyclone of action on roller skates, Francis Brunn setting new records for speed in jungling, Hermanos Ibarra in whirling gymnastics on horizontal bars, the Myron Duo of foot-balancing experts, an dthe Karrel Troupe in feats and formations on Roman ladders.

Work by members of the congregation still continues on the new building. Those interested in helping are asked to call John LePine, PL. 5-1097.

In the year 109 A.D. the victorious Roman legions built an aqueduct in Segovia. For 1800 years that aqueduct carried sparkling water to hot and dusty Segovians.

About the turn of the 20th century, thoughtful Spaniards decided the aqueduct should be preserved for posterity and should be relieved of its age-old labor. Modern pipe-lines were laid and the flow of water in the old aqueduct was stopped.

Not long after, the old aqueduct began to fall apart. The blazing sun dried the mortar and made it crumble. Its stones sagged and fell; soon it lay in ruins. What ages of use could not destroy a few years of neglect soon removed.

What was true of the Segovian aqueduct is also true of the Christian church. It is designed for use. When it becomes an object of veneration, a thing to be looked at, praised, and admired but not really used . . . it too must inevitably disintegrate and disappear from the community.

Such a prospect is fearful indeed . . . the peril of neglect is too horrible to contemplate. Therefore use your church . . . worship regularly! Only if you do can it remain a source of "life giving water" . . . bringing its cherished blessings to you and your community.

This is what Jesus meant when he said: "Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I give him shall be in him a well of living water springing up into eternal life."—John 4:14.

Cady Gets Kudo

Name Norm Cady Outstanding Jeff Athlete of The Year

Norm Cady last night received the top award that Jefferson Union high school offers its athletes.

As the highlight of the Jeff Block "J" society's fourth annual Father and Son banquet, Cady, noted for his swimming prowess, was presented with an award as the school's most outstanding senior athlete of the year.

The award was made by Glenn South, dean of boys, who winds up his coaching career this year under the press of administrative duties.

Guest speakers at the banquet were Joe Ruetz, football coach at Stanford University, and Stanford's All-American end, Bob McColl.

Awards were also presented to the top athletes in each of the six sports of football, basketball, track, swimming and golf by the repective coaches of those sports.

Beginning at 7:30 o'colck Wednesday, May 14, in the school cafeteria, the banquet a presentation of block letter awards to 81 athletes in the various sports. No awards were made to the golf team, who have not yet completed their season's schedule.

Cady received the top award with a citation for his athletic ability, leadership and scholarship qualities, sportsmanship, and the extent of his sports participation.

A holder of nine school swimming records, five on his own and four as a member of the relay swimming team, Cady also owns the top sprint time for the Northern California sectional swimming meet. He has earned his block in swimming for four straight years, and in basketball and football for three years.

The honor roll of former students who received the top kudo includes Eddie Cereghino, now with a Yankee farm club, who wound up his hurling season last year with a record of 11 wins, two losses; Herb Poddy, who played on one of US's Rose Bowl teams; and others who earned themselves high reputations in professional and amateur sports.

Winners of top spots in individual sports and the coaches who made the presentations are: Ray Tschirgi, football award; Don Wilson, basketball award from Coach Michael Orlich; Bryan McMahon, baseball award from Coach Clarence Lair; Mac Douglas, track award from Coach Ernie Ribera; Cady, the swimming award; and John Ceersten, golf award from Coach John Matthews.

The program was introduced by Izzy Galante, president of the Block "J" society and left fielder on the varsity baseball squad.

Movies of last year's Rose Bowl game were also shown.

Local Trout Prospects

Two lakes, nearby Merced and Steven's Creek reservoir, over the line in Santa Clara county, offer those with a yen for trout fishing their best chance for sport this week-end.

Laguna de la Merced has the advantage of being relatively large and very heavily stocked with keeping size fish. The state fish and game commission planted over one hundred and seventy-three thousand trout there late last year.

All the plantings were of fish over six inches in length. That makes a nice head of keepers added to the big, fat, smart stock remaining from last year.

The lake is operated by the San Francisco Recreation department, and would-be anglers must purchase a city permit if they are over 18 years of age. Permits cost $1 for the season and 25 cents for one day. They can be bought wherever state licenses are sold in the city.

At Steven's Creek reservoir, a brief drive of an hour or so from the Daly City area, more than seventeen thousand trout were planted. This little lake has the advantage over Merced in that it is not as heavily fished and its shoreline makes for easy angling. No special license is required to fish it and trout were coming to the hook with fair regularity at latest reports.

Good News, Greyhound Strike Over At Last

Residents of the Daly City area who depend heavily on Greyhound to get from one spot to the other were cheered this week to learn the dispute which has kept the busses idle has finally been settled.

After being on strike for more than two months, the drivers finally came to an agreement with the management, and busses will be rolling again by Monday. According to Greyhound officials, Ticket offices were scheduled to open today, May 15.

Manager Reports Unhappy Defeat For Sarto AC

By PARKER GARNER
Sarto AC Manager

The odor which permeated the confines of Marchbank Park and vicinity last Sunday was due to the Sarto club giving away a baseball game to the visiting New Pisa Restaurant nine.

Six Sarto errors and ten walks by three pitchers was the cause of the aroma. Tito Sarto started on the mound for the locals and was relieved at the end of the second inning after relinquishing four hits, four walks and three runs.

Bill Rainey, ace relief hurler for the club, fared but little better, issuing four runs, four hits and five free passes in five innings. Rainey was charged with the defeat.

Don Deluzzio put the game to an end, but was as generous as the preceding pitchers.

No Sarto player received more than one base hit. O'Hara and Rainey each collected doubles. Bob Thallander, USF mainstay, was outstanding with tricky glove work at second base.

The Restaurant team lashed out ten hits against seven for the Sarto outfit. Final score, New Pisa Restaurant 11, Sarto AC 6.

It is to be hoped that the boys find themselves before they play the Naval Shipyard team at Marchbanks at 12 noon Sunday, May 18.

Sugar—Not Salt—Lures Pigeons To Their Doom

The classic method of catching a bird by placing salt on its tail has been rendered obsolete by the California Department of Fish and Game. The state agency has found that sugar—blown out of a two and a half inch mortar—catches more pigeons than any other known method.

Mixed with potassium chlorate, sugar is used in a pair of mortars as the explosive to propel the leading edge of a 30-by 50-foot net.

The unique live-trapping, now practiced in Napa county after successful tests near Redding, is part of the department's three-year pigeon research project. The goal is the trapping, banding and release of 2,000 birds, according to Wallace Macgregor, assistant game biologist.

The fish net's free sides are shot neatly upward and over a gathering of pigeons. As many as 150 birds have been snared in one set by the new method.

Sequoia Dumps Jeffs As League Race Nears End

Jefferson slipped off the top of the PAL heap last Friday by losing to Sequoia 4-0, in a game played on the local diamond.

But the Jeff squad is certain of a berth in the league play-offs, and visions of a third straight league championship are already dancing in their heads.

The loss to Sequoia knocked Coach Clarence Lair's team down into second place tie with the team they bowed to, but the final outcome—with each team scheduled for only one more game—is anybody's guess. The Jeffs currently have three losses and six wins. Tomorrow, Friday, May 16, they meet South City.

Joe Lewkowitz took the mound for the Jeffs and allowed only the four hits — unfortunately, they were enough. Lewkowitz fanned six of the Cherokee's and gave two their base on balls.

The Jeffs only two hits came from first baseman Larry Blanchard, who singled in the second frame, and right fielder Chuck Maynard, who did the same in the fifth. The rest of Jeffs came up to the plate, waved the bat three times, and sat down again.

Sequoia's Scutero, a right fielder, provided the Cherokee's with their biggest boost when he clobbered a long, 400 foot circuit clout in the fifth, driving in a man on first. Other two Cherokee tabs came in the fourth.

Currently on top of the PAL is Palo Alto, whose .750 percentage comes from a six won, two loss record. San Mateo is crowded into the number two position with Sequoia and Jefferson.

FRIENDLY GAME GOES SOUR ON V AND F'S

Something happened at Funston field last Sunday, and Vince and Fred's diamondmen aren't yet sure what it was.

Seems they were having a friendly little game of baseball with Foster's Lunch, and the friendliness was due to the 4-0 lead they had on the Fostermen up to the sixth inning.

Moundsman Vince Voto was having the friendliest time of all the local boys because at that point it looked like he had a one-hitter almost under his belt.

Then the house caved in, and the Foster team cracked out no less than seven runs in one inning.

From then on, the nice, friendly game developed into a complete rout. Final score — Fosters, 9; Vince and Fred's, 4.

Four Trackmen Set For Berkeley Race

The long, hard row of recent PAL and inter-league track tourneys has steadily cut down the number of Jeff trackmen eligible for the North Coast finals, slated for this Saturday at Berkeley.

But four of the local cindermen have made the grade, a fact that gives track mentor Ernie Ribera some pleasure.

Ready for the big meet are Al Schenone, who earned his berth by winning the 30's 660 race last Friday at the North Coast trials, and the Jeff 30's relay team, composed of Schenone, Larborough, Webb and Hamann.

At the PAL semi-finals, way back in the dim past of three weeks ago, Ribera's boys did well enough to qualify 21 out of 23 entrants for the finals. At the finals, they placed six out of the 21 in last week's trials for the North Coast met. And now they're left with four men for the really big push at Berkeley tomorrow.

Local hopes are that Schenone, or the relay team of which he is a member, will qualify at Berkeley for the state-wide finals in Los Angeles on Saturday, May 24.

Schenone won his 660 run in 1:27.3, and the relay team qualified by taking third spot in their 440-yard run. First four places allow 30's division runners to enter the next meet up the ladder, and Jerry Yarborough, though doing his bit in the relay, lost out in the 330 solo by taking a fifth spot.

In the varsity division, only top three places are considered to qualify. Mac Douglas, Ribera's only varsity entrant at the North Coast trials, missed by the traditional hair, taking a fourth spot with his best time of the year, 52 seconds flat.

Tom Brown Loses; Drops To Art Larsen

After totting up a string of four straight wins in a recent California net tourney, Tom Brown received his comeuppance last Sunday from Art Larsen at the Southern California Annual Tennis championships.

In the finals of that meet, Brown went down 6-2, 6-4, 6-3 to Larsen, 1950 national champ. And just to prove that politics has nothing on tennis as a maker of strange bedfellows, Brown and Larsen then teamed up for the men's doubles championship.

They met the team of Herb Flam, fourth ranked nationally and reigning California champ, and Hugh Stewart. Flam and Stewart took the crown, 6-3, 6-5, 7-3.

Former Davis Cupper Brown earned his place in the championship match by meeting Noel Brown (no relation) in semi-finals play. The Brown-Brown clash went on for nearly four hours, with Tom winning, 11-9, 6-3, 7-9, 6-1.

All four—Brown, the Daly City attorney, Noel Brown, Larsen, and Flam are currently in the midst of the State Championships, which opened yesterday, Wednesday, May 14, at the Berkeley Tennis club.

Flam, due to his win last year is seeded number one, Larsen follows and Brown is third ranked. Brown took the tourney in 1950, but is not ranked nationally at present. Legal practice prevented him from making the eastern tour, where rankings are earned.

That either Brown, Flam or Larsen will end up with the state championship is almost a certainty. Brown and Larsen, in particular, are strong contenders. Both are moving fast on the comeback trail, and both are reportedly playing the best tennis of their respective careers.

And that is good enough tennis for anyone, as is testified to by the fact that Larsen and Brown have both made Forest Hills play on more than one occasion. Brown twice missed the national championship when it was almost in his grasp, and with Jack Kramer he took the 1946 men's world doubles crown at Wimbledon, England. Not to mention, of course, his part in Davis Cup play.

At the tottering old age of 29, Brown finds that he can still swing a racquet with the best of them. And as long as he can do that, the much-coveted men's singles championship may stifl reside in Daly City.

Public Links Play Begins June 15th

The 27th Amateur Public Links Championship of the United States Golf Association is to be played July 7 through 12 at Miami Country Club, Miami, Florida.

To determine the sectional qualifiers, there will be a 36-hole qualifying round on June 15th. The first half of the field is to play their first round over Harding Park and the second round over Sharp Park; the second half of the field will play their first round over Sharp Park and the second round over Harding Park. This is the sectional qualifying for northern California.

All entries must be in the hands of the chairman of the sectional qualifying committee on the evening of Thursday, May 29th. There will be no post entries allowed. Official entry blanks will be available from the starters at the public courses or from the following commiteemen:

TO THE VOTERS

Five years ago you voted to increase the tax rate limit of your high school district from seventy-five cents to one dollar and thirty-five cents per one hundred dollars of assessed valuation. This was done for a period of five years and expires June 30, 1952.

In the meantime, the enrollment has grown to over one thousand students. Growth will continue. The predicted enrollment for the future is as follows:

1952-53	1135	1956-57	1750
1953-54	1320	1957-58	1900
1954-55	1450	1958-59	2020
1955-56	1550	1959-60	2150

More students; a new building on the present site; and a second high school on a site now being purchased mean more expense.

A possible increase in assessed valuation will not off-set the loss of income if the rate reverts to seventy-five cents. Jefferson still will have the lowest valuation per high school student in the county.

Your board members are taxpayers and will operate the school in an economical manner. The tax rate this year is NOT up to the limit. Your board will continue to be careful with your school money. After all, it is their money, too.

This does not seem to be the time to reduce income. A YES vote on May 16, 1952, will CONTINUE THE PRESENT TAX RATE LIMIT.

Sincerely,

Mr. Peter Markovich, Chairman
Mrs. Ann M. Eason, Clerk
Mrs. Mildred McGeein
Mr. Thomas J. Callan
Mr. Lyal Ingersoll
Board of Trustees

P. S. Remember this is NOT an increase in the present tax rate limit of the past five years.

Romeo & Juliet Slated May 22

San Mateo Junior College Players are just about ready to put on their term production, which this semester is "Romeo and Juliet." This is the first Shakespearean play to be staged by the Players in 15 years.

Director Robert Brauns has had his cast at work daily in rehearsals, and Sam Rolph, in charge of sets and costuming, has had a number of students working school days and weekends on the sets and numerous costumes required for the large cast.

The play will be staged May 22, 23, and 24 of next week, and tickets will be sold at the door. A coffee period at the close of the play will enable the audience to meet the actors.

This Friday afternoon the annual Soph-Frosh interclass scramble will take place on the Coyote Point campus. The afternoon and evening event includes games, contests for men and women, an aquacade, an evening meal under the campus trees, and a record dance. Each year the two classes compete for a large trophy.

San Mateo jaysee golfers placed second in the conference race losing by two strokes to Modesto. The baseball team ended its league season Saturday by beating City College of San Francisco 9-8 in ten innings.

The junior college was host to the annual all-day meeting of the Northern California Political Science Association at the Coyote Point campus. Professors in colleges from Fresno to Chico attended the sessions. San Mateo's David Rempel and Roy Archibald served as the local chairmen for the conference.

County Red Cross Collects $128,408 In Fund Campaign

Commenting on the success of the San Mateo County Chapter, American Red Cross in its 1952 fund campaign, Dan Minto, Chapter Chairman, said today:

"To date, $128,408.58 has been contributed in the campaign, as against $110,321.95 on this date last year. More money is coming in and it is entirely possible that by the time the books close in October, we may achieve our goal of $140,100.00. Our original 1952 quota of $135,000.00 was boosted $5,100.00 in the middle of the drive, when the devastating tornadoes struck the south. Although this sum was not contributed directly for tornado relief, the finance committee, at its meeting yesterday, forwarded a check for that amount to National Red Cross in Washington, for use in disaster relief. At this time, I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to all the volunteers, over 2,000 of them, who have worked so tirelessly to make the recent campaign such an outstanding success."

The "Bucket Brigade" drive conducted the last week-end in April for relief of flood sufferers in the great Missouri and Mississippi Valley disaster, Minto reported, has thus far reached a total of $1,354.00, but money is still coming in earmarked for flood relief, he said.

Minto attributed a great measure of the success of the drive to the spledid organization of workers achieved by Mrs. Harry Durand, Fund Chairman and Mrs. Barney Bristow, Women's Division residential chairman. He said that Red Cross services to residents of this chapter area will not have to be curtailed in the coming year and that the chapter will endeavor to aid the Armed Forces, disaster victims and residents of the community with its usual high standard of service.

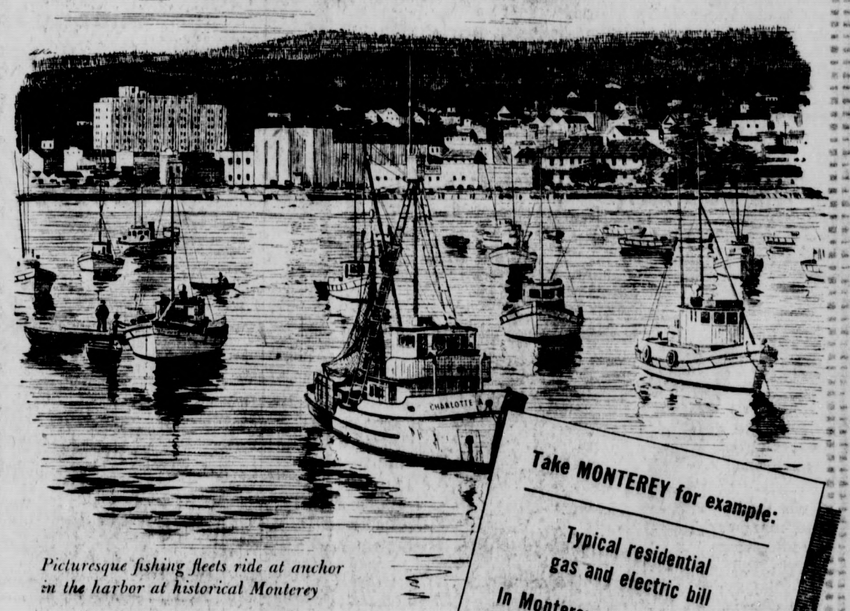
Gas and electricity are cheap in California!



Picturesque fishing fleets ride at anchor in the harbor at historical Monterey

P.G. and E. home rates are far below U.S. average!

The cost of living has nearly doubled since 1940, but P.G. and E. domestic rates are actually lower than they were then! Nothing else you buy costs so little—does so much. Let P.G. and E.'s bargain gas and electricity do more of your work, bring you more of life's comforts.

Take MONTEREY for example:

Typical residential gas and electric bill

In Monterey $9.19

In all U.S. cities of similar size* . . . $14.15

* Average for the 24 U.S. cities outside California between 16,000 and 16,500 population. Based on a typical use of 100 kilowatt hours and 100 therms of gas per month.

Hundreds Attend Fashion Show Of Mothers' Group

Saturday Luncheon Was Big Success

A crowded school auditorium was the scene last Saturday when members of the OLPH Mothers' Club presented the 1952 fashion show and luncheon.

The luncheon, prepared by Mrs. Janet Fellman and her assistants, got underway promptly at 1 p.m. The repast was served by several club members under the supervision of Mrs. Agnus Kollman.

The lovely models, picked from the club membership, might have given their professional sisters a close run in competition. They wore creations from Gray's Fashion Gardens in West Portal, and beautiful furs from Minudri's, also of West Portal.

The several hundred guests present agreed the models went about their jobs with efficiency, and made many a guest leave with thoughts of a new spring wardrobe.

The entertainment was furnished by the well-known Andrini Brothers, with musical comedy.

More than 130 door prizes were handed out to the lucky winners.

Members of the group, in behalf of the president and general chairman, Mrs. Frank Denning, expressed their thanks to the public for contributing so generously to the success of the show.

The stage was decorated and designed by Frank Denning, husband of the president. Decorations for the hall were made by Mrs. Marian Balestreri and assistants.

Westlake PTA Slate Rag Drive Project

A rag drive is the next project underway for the Westlake PTA, reports Mrs. Earl Peasley.

Beginning Wednesday, May 21, Westlake school children will receive bags to use in the rag collecting. Parents are asked to fill up the bags with rags and return them to school via the children.

Rags of all kinds except carpeting and canvas are acceptable, Mrs. Peasley adds. The drive will run through May 28.

Funds accrued from various sources, including the last rag drive and the Valentine canasta party, were used to purchase library books, which have been ordered and will arrive at the Westlake school with a week. The books are designed for the use of fourth, fifth and sixth graders.

Last drive of the organization, for wire coat hangers, resulted in the school overflowing with 14,536 hangers, Miss Stroud's first graders bringing in the most.

Schramm Welcomed To Grandparent League

Sgt. Otto Schramm, popular state gendarme, is a grandfather today. Mrs. Beula Newman, 265 Oliver street, is also a grandmother for the first time. And Mrs. Gene O'Rourk, former city librarian, is now a great-grandmother.

Incidental but important to all of these developments is the birth of a 7 lb. 12 oz. baby girl at 3 o'clock this morning, May 15. She is the first daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Chester Matsen. Mrs. Matsen is the former Barbara Schramm.

The baby came in on an "early flight" at Travis Airbase where Sgt. Matsen is now stationed.

Recreation Director Makes Report On Playgrounds During PTA Meeting

The Crocker PTA held its first meeting under the direction of the newly elected officers Tuesday.

During the business session Mrs. T. Mullen was elected delegate-at-large for the coordinating committee for the coming year.

Speaker of the evening was Elman Rose, chairman of the recreation committee, who informed members that Daly City playgrounds will be supervised during the summer months. Hours of supervision during week days will be from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., and on Sundays from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., he said.

In telling members of the playground situation, Rose said the Frankfort playground equipment will be set up for the use of smaller children mainly, although some equipment for the older children will be maintained. The Lincoln Park is already equipped fo rolder children.

Edgewood Terract playground will be finished and equipped this summer, Rose said. Marchbanks Park wil ihave additional courts and a utility building.

The summer program, the recreation director said, will include movies, child craft, folk dancing for children and adults, softball and a training course for younger children. Special events also are planned.

The recreation department will send home a list of summer classes and activities with the children at the end of the school term, Rose said. The lists also will be available at the public library and the city hall.

There will be no swimming program this summer, Rose said, because of repairs made at the high school swimming pool building.

It was announced during the meeting that the District PTA was scheduled May 15 at Burlingame. Attending were Mrs. Al Lyon, Mrs. Lyol Ingersoll, Mrs. John O'Keefe and Mrs. E. Schmale.

Mrs. Lyons, president of the Crocker PTA, made a brief report on the recent state convention.

MP OFFICER TAKES GENERAL SCHOOLING

Maj. Ernest J. Verba, whose wife, Marjorie Lou, and two children live at 1836 Sweetwood drive, Colma, graduated May 7 from the Army's General Staff Course at the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kans.

An officer in the Military Police corps, Verba was military police officer at the Presidio in San Francisco before attending school at Fort Leavenworth.

Major Verba served in major campaigns in Ardennes, Central Europe and the Rhineland during World War II.

The course, which was attended by 324 officers ranging in rank from captain to colonel, lasted four months. It was designed to prepare the students for duty on the general staff of a division, and provide instruction in modern military developments.

Vets' Orphans Aided By Buddy Poppy Proceeds

How the sale of Buddy Poppies enables the Veterans of Foreign Wars to provide aid to the orphans of veterans is explained in a statement issued today by Commander Edward Diaz of Lake Merced Post No. 9921, with the announcement that May 23 has been selected for the annual sale of Buddy Poppies in this city.

"One penny from each Buddy Poppy the VFW has sold during the past 25 years has been earmarked for the maintenance of the VFW National Home for widows and orphans at Eaton Rapids, Michigan," Commander Diaz explained.

"This National Home is the only orphan project of its kind being supported and maintained by a veteran organization. Child welfare experts, who have watched its growth and development since 1925, unanimously agree that the VFW National Home is the finest child welfare venture of its kind in the world.

"This National Home is unique in the very fact that it is not operated as a typical orphan asylum, or anything that resembles an 'institution.'

"On the contrary, we have built a child village, a community of individual homes, one that is comparable to the typical residential section of any modern city. Children under our care are brought up as members of an average family. Boys and girls live under the same roof—like brothers and sisters—where they enjoy the watchful care of a competent house mother.

"In the final analysis, we are trying to give these boys and girls the kind of homes their heroic fathers would have tried to provide for them if they had been given the opportunity.

"The support of this VFW National Home is only one of the many welfare projects that we accomplish with the money that we raise annually from the sale of Buddy Poppies. Every penny of the balance makes it possible to furnish relief and assistance to our disabled and needy comrades, and their dependents."

Music Appreciation To Be Meet Theme

"Music Appreciation" will be the theme at the next regular meeting of Sheridan PTA to be held on Tuesday, May 20, at 1 p.m. in the school auditorium.

A special musical program will be offered by the students of San Francisco City College, under the direction of Miss Flosita Badger, chairman of the music department and director of opera work-shop at City College.

Mrs. J. F. Harrop, president, will present a summary of convention reports from the delegates to the recent CCPT convention held in San Francisco.

Following adjournment of the meeting, refreshments will be served by the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Paul H. Rau, and the colchairman, Mrs. Floyd G. Ellison.

Proceeds from the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars help maintain this V.F.W. National Home for orphans of veterans, near Eaton Rapids, Mich. Inset, Ginger Crowley, Warner Bros. film starlet and 1952 National Buddy Poppy Girl.

When you pay your telephone bill, about 28 cents of each dollar goes for taxes.

How much tax in your telephone bill?

When you pay your telephone bill each month, an important part of your money is passed on in taxes to the Federal Government and to state, county and city governments. Naturally, we expect to contribute our fair share of the cost of government... but because taxes now account for such a large portion of the cost of service, we feel we should report about them to you who, as telephone customers, have to pay them.

Your telephone is taxed in two ways: One, through the operating taxes we pay to run the business—income taxes, property taxes and the like. In 1951 these came to $81 million for Pacific Telephone, an all-time high. Two, by Federal excise levies you pay on local and long distance service. Last year we collected more than $70 million in excise taxes from our customers and turned it over to the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

To give you some idea of the size of our tax bill, it is estimated that the total excise and operating taxes we paid in 1951... $152 million... could have supported all the 131 schools of higher education in California. In terms of the average telephone, this is $35 per telephone per year ...$2.92 per month. Twenty years ago the average was 53 cents a month.

Your telephone is one of today's best bargains

In spite of sharp increases in taxes, wages, materials and other costs of providing service, we've been able to hold down the prices you pay for service... hold them so low, in fact, that the telephone today is one of the best buys in any budget.
